

Presentations at the preconference on 'The presentation of self in everyday digital life' 2 September 2009, U of Westminster, London

Commentator: Nick Couldry, Goldsmiths College, U of London

SONIA LIVINGSTONE

Goffman's 'participation framework' rethought for the age of Facebook

NANCY THUMIM & GUNN SARA ENLI

Socializing and representing yourself online: exploring Facebook

KNUT-ARNE FUTSÆTER & IVAR FRØNES

The social dynamic of the social media

MIA LÖVHEIM

Blogs as Self-Representation: a gendered perspective on agency, authenticity and negotiations of public and private in digital media

SHUBO LI

Contextualizing the "publicness" in self-made media: Young persons digital self-presentation in Norway and China

MARK EVAN NELSON

'Space2Cre8': Negotiating Roles and (Re)presentations of Self in Online and Offline Contexts

LARRY FRIEDLANDER

Signalling the Self: Portraits from Durer to Facebook

RANJANA DAS:

A Network, The Model Reader and I. Imaginative excursions. Playful reconstructions.

HEATHER M. PLEASANTS

Digital Storytelling, Co-presence and Community: (Re)presenting Goffman in Everyday Digital Life

ANDREA PRESS

The Feminine/Feminist Presentation of Self in Currently Popular TV and Film

JOSÉ LUIS RODRÍGUEZ ILLERA

Digital storytelling as an activity system

JUAN ANTONIO GAITÁN MOYA & CARLOS ARCILA CALDERON

Communication, otherness and online environments:

Identity production and presentation of self during a student chat interaction

19 May 2009